STAR REVEALS WHAT YOUR GO-TO SNAPSHOT

The Concealer

Hiding something? Filtered photos can be fun, but they can also send a message to pals that you're covering something up. In Ariana Grande's case, the singer, 25, may have hoped to keep some things sacred after making headlines for calling off her engagement to Pete Davidson after the loss of ex Mac Miller. The Dangerous Woman captioned this shot, "Deep as f**k in my feelings" — and we really can't blame her.

The Thirst Trapper

No ifs, ands or butts about it: If you weren't getting many "likes" on your Instagram account, cheeky pics like Kylie Jenner's may have helped you get to the bottom of that problem! Shots that show off some of your best assets are a surefire way to boost views, increase your following and get friends to double-tap your posts. For instance, this sexy snap from the youngest self-made billionaire, 21, has 7.3 million likes and 75.4 thousand comments — and counting!

The Show-Off

So you've been working out... Birthday suit shots like this one from The Assassination of Gianni Versace Emmy and Golden Globe winner Darren Criss, 32, sure could be shocking, but if you've worked this hard, you deserve to show off a bit (or, well... a lot!).

The Reformed

A postworkout selfie, like this one of Demi Lovato, 26, in her jiu-jitsu uniform, proves that adrenaline gets you feeling Confident. So it's no wonder the "Sober" singer, who spent 90 days in rehab following a near-fatal overdose, wanted to humble-brag about how she's getting her mind right. After all, posting exercise pics can be a great ego boost — Sorry Not Sorry!

The Romantic

We get it... you're in love! If your Instagram is filled with PDA-packed pics, like newly married Lea Michele, 32, it's obvious that your days are filled with Glee. Just remember: No one likes a braggart! So if you find yourself losing followers, it may be time to take things in a New Direction.

The World Traveler

Trying to make your pals Jealous? Then you're probably posting scenic snapshots from your latest adventure. Whether it's up in the mountains like singer Nick Jonas, 26, or on the beaches of the Bahamas, everyone's a Sucker for a vacation view — but mostly when it's their own! So be wary, these types of pics will most likely cause Insta envy and eye rolls!

The New and Improved

With a sultry selfie like this, you're clearly telling your followers that you're off to a fresh start. So after Zac Efron, 31, posted this flick sporting platinum blond locks and a face full of sexy scruff, Troy Bolton's high school days seem to be over — indefinitely!
